

To whom it may concern

Detailed information about the Swedish URA-insurance, Terms and Conditions 2022-01-01;

Kammarkollegiet is a Swedish state authority.

One of our assignments is to provide insurance solutions to other Swedish authorities, including universities in Sweden.

We insure state property, buildings, employees, and students, to name a few.

Medical and dental care cover and Reimbursement

The insurance reimburses necessary, reasonable and certified costs for emergency or non-planned medical care. For each such event, the costs will be reimbursed for a period not exceeding 90 days from the first contact with a care provider.

If it appears that the person will need continued care even after 90 days, it may be relevant to a repatriation, which the insurance covers (Home transport cover). It is Falck and United Healthcare Global with help from the local care provider, who decides whether the repatriation is necessary. A repatriation may also be relevant at an earlier stage.

Kammarkollegiet defines emergency care as follows: medical/dental care needed for an illness that occurs during the stay abroad and medical/dental care is needed as soon as possible, for example stomach ache or a fever.

The insurance covers emergency medical treatment for a person with a chronic illness, pre-existing condition, that deteriorates during their stay abroad. The insurance covers care for mental illness that outbreaks or grow worse abroad.

Maternity care and childbirth

Insurance for maternity care and childbirth is included in the URA-insurance. The insurance reimburses necessary, reasonable cost for maternity care and childbirth. Follow-up care for the mother and check-ups for the child is also included.

There is no maximum amount regarding the insurance coverage for emergency or non-elective care. There is no deductible to this insurance. There is no maximum amount regarding medical care, maternity care and childbirth, medical evacuation, repatriation, or home transport.

In case of serious illness, hospital admission, need for transport home or other active assistance in the event of injury abroad, the traveler can contact:
