

NEWSLETTER FOR PROVIDERS OF DOCTORAL COURSES

April, 2020

Digital examinations

In the current situation when all theoretical teaching must be carried out digitally, see information about digital examinations as well as the tools available for this (written with first and second cycle education in mind, but most of it applicable also for doctoral education):

Course catalogue autumn 2020

The course catalogue is now published and will be open for application between 15 April and 15 May. Information about admission has been sent to all course directors and contact persons of the planned autumn courses.

A new web page for applicants has been published, with information about changes to the application process and the need to check that a submitted application has been correctly registered. This page will be linked to from the next KI newsletter.

Supervisor certificate

If the situation with the corona virus continues, please note that the applicants have been informed (see previous link above) that they can return the supervisor certificate unsigned, with the supervisor's approval via email as an attachment.

Course vacancies during spring 2020

Since some courses have had to cancel due to the need to shift to online teaching with short notice, more doctoral students may want to find course vacancies. If you are running a course during the spring and have vacancies, please notify doctoralcourses@ki.se. We can then advertise it on the page for course vacancies.

Kind regards,

The Course and Programme Committee through Anna Gustafsson, Administrative Officer.
